Letter from RAF Ruislip

Allen's mother Evelyn was alone at home at 9 North Road Aberaeron when she received news of Allen's death, her husband Timothy was on convoy duty in the North Sea whilst serving in the Merchant Navy.

Allen died at 10.00 am 7th March 1941 aged 22.

[Sunderland L2164 at moorings in Kalafranca Bay, Malta was damaged in a strafing attack by Me 109's of 7/JG and set on fire at mooring on 7th March. Sgt. Jones was returning fire with the Vickers gun at the amidships position when he was killed.]

The Squadron Leader states: - 'Sergeant Jones was not only a very efficient member of his squadron but a most popular one and liked by all the men. He was at all times cheerful and willing to undertake any task. He will be sadly missed by his comrades and officers.'

A memorial service was held at Tabernacle Chapel and members of the Home Guard were present in uniform.
